Art Unit: 1614

Claims 1-10 and 37-40 are presented for examination.

Applicants' amendment filed November 18, 2005 has been received and entered.

Claim Objections

Claim 37 is again objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-10 and 38-40 are again rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for treating rhinosinusitis or alleviating the symptoms of rhinosinusitis with thapsigargin, does not reasonably provide enablement for other agents that permits the release of proteins from the endoplasmic reticulum or other agents disclosed in claims 38 and 39. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims.

In this regard, the application disclosure and claims have been compared per factors indicated in the decision In re Wands, 8 USPQ2d 1400 (Fed. Cir., 1988) as to undue experimentation.

The factors include:

- 1) the quantity of experimentation necessary
- 2) the amount of direction or guidance provided
- 3) the presence or absence of working examples
- 4) the nature of the invention
- 5) the state of the art
- 6) the relative skill of those in the art
- 7) the predictability of the art and
- 8) the breadth of the claims

The instant specification fails to provide guidance that would allow the skilled artisan background sufficient to practice that instant invention without resorting to undue experimentation in view of further discussion below.

As of record, for reason of record as set forth in the Office action dated May 20, 2005 at pages 2-5 as applied to claims 1-10, 29-36 and 38-41.

Applicants' remarks regarding the Examiner does not provide any reasoning to show the instant specification does established the existence of correlations that demonstration enablement of the claims are not persuasive since the Examiner has stated in the Office dated May 20, 2005 that enablement is shows for the active agent, thapsigargin, only. Again, the applicants have not demonstrated on the record how the other agents that permit the release of proteins from the endoplasmic reticulum, especially the agents disclosed in claims 38 and 39 are effective to treat rhinosinusitis. The mere reference cited by the applicants to show the cyclopiazonic acid is an agent that permits the release of proteins from the endoplasmic reticulum is considered by the Examiner for the state of the art, however, the reference does not overcome the undue experimentation needed to prove cyclopiazonic acid can treat rhinosinusitis.

The rejection made under 35 USC 112, first paragraph as adhered to.

Claims 1-10 and 38-40 are not allowed.

Applicants' may wish to delete claims 5-10 which pertains to cystic fibrosis.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
